Let's have some kids
And build a house in the woods
It could be simple
Like you always said it should
We'd have a yard
For the dogs to run around
Then they'll get all brindle
As their lives are winding down

Daydream
Of a parallel timeline
Daydream

You would go gray
And get more beautiful each year
But i'll gain some weight
And then I'll lose all my hair
You still call me sexy
I love how you lie to me
Want for nothing
We got everything we need
